Dear CFCI Parents/Guardians:

A completed AHERA Management Plan is on file in the main office. The management plan indicates that our building at 2525 Wonder Way does not contain any asbestos. This information is in accordance with the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act, which requires that a copy of a signed statement from the architect, engineer or accredited inspector testifying to the "absence of asbestos" is available for public viewing.

Anyone wishing to see this management plan may ask the main office.

A reference to this note shall be made in an issue of the monthly school newsletter following its annual distribution.

Sincerely,

Lori Underwood Roy

Internet and Email Acceptable Use Policy

Internet access and electronic mail (email) are now available to students and teachers within CFCI. We believe the internet offers vast, diverse, and unique resources to both students and teachers. Our goal in providing this service is to promote education excellence in schools by facilitating resource sharing, innovation, and communication. To gain access to the internet, all students under the age of 18 must obtain parental permission and must sign and return this form.

Access to the internet will enable students to explore thousands of libraries, databases, and bulletin boards while exchanging messages with internet users throughout the world. Families should be warned that some material accessible via the internet could contain items that are illegal, defamatory, inaccurate, or potentially offensive to some people.

While our intent is to make internet access available to further educational goals and objectives, students may find ways to access other materials as well. We believe that the benefits to students from access to the internet, in the form of information resources and opportunities for collaboration, exceed any disadvantages; but ultimately, parents and guardians of minors are responsible for setting and conveying the standards that their children should follow when using media and information sources.

To that end, the CFCI supports and respects each family's right to decide whether or not to apply for access.

CFCI Internet and Email Rules:

Students are responsible for good behavior on school computer networks just as they are in the classroom or school hallway. Communications on the network are often public in nature. General school rules for behavior and communication apply.

The network is provided for students to conduct research and communicate with others. Access to network service is given to students who agree to act in a considerate and responsible manner. Parent permission is required. Access is a privilege – not a right. Access entails responsibility.

Network storage areas may be treated like school lockers. Network administrators may review files and communications to maintain system integrity and insure that users are using the system responsibly. Users should not expect that files stored on CFCI servers would be private.

Within reason, freedom of speech and access to information will be honored. During school, teachers will guide students toward appropriate materials. Outside of school, families bear the same responsibility for such guidance as they exercise with information sources as television, telephones, movies, radio, and other potentially offensive media.

Individual users of the internet are expected to abide by the generally accepted rules of network etiquette. The following are not permitted:

- Accessing any sites with adult content and/or discussions
- Sending email that is offensive and/or inappropriate (if you have any doubts, let your teacher read it first)
- Using computers in any way to cause problems for others. For example: Writing that is hurtful to others; deleting, destroying, or changing the work of others; and/or anything that an adult has warned you about.

In the event a student engages in any of the above referenced activities, his/her access privileges will be revoked and other disciplinary measures may result.

- Student could lose computer privileges permanently for the rest of the year or for a period of time that a teacher or the director determines the offense earns
- Student will be financially responsible for any damage that they do to equipment, physically or electronically.

After reading the attached rules with your child, please sign the form below and return it to school.
